U.S. CATHOLIC MISSION ASSOCIATION

UNITED STATES CATHOLIC MISSION ASSOCIATION

PURPOSE AND SPIRIT

The U.S. Catholic Mission Association is a non-profit, charitable, religious and educational organization which exists for the promotion of global mission. Its primary focus is cross-cultural mission, with a special emphasis on international justice.

The Mission Association is open to all who seek to promote global mission in community with others. It is envisioned to be an experience of the renewed Church, in which all members are equal. The methods of decision-making, of financial support, and of committee service reflect the underlying ecclesiology.

It is the hope of those who have developed the USCMA that the Association will exemplify in its structures and operations a mission theology and ecclesiology adequate for the Church as it tries to be true to the Gospel and meaningful to the modern world.

HISTORY

The U.S. Catholic Mission Association was approved in its present mode at the Annual Assembly of the Board of Directors in May 1982. It is linked historically to the Mission Secretariat, which served mission-sending groups for over twenty years, and to the U.S. Catholic Mission Council, which functioned for some 12 years, until September 1981. The Mission Association is different inasmuch as it is open to individuals and to networks as well as to organizations which intend to serve the global mission of the Church in community with others and in a spirit of service and equality in decision-making, which is consensual and collegial.

In the past several years, this organization has tried to serve as one of the focal points for global mission in the U.S. Church. It has provided a forum for people interested in and involved with this type of mission, around which they could gather their concerns and needs. It has provided a unifying locus for sharing of ideas, of emerging trends, and of new developments in mission. It has fostered preparation of missioners under all aspects, and it has promoted programs of re-entry for missionaries on furlough. It has provided a dimension of international social justice which is missing in many programs of education for mission. It has stimulated new modes of mission, such as reverse mission, mutuality of mission, and ecumenical mission. And finally, it has fostered a dialogue among all the forces in mission on how best to serve the U.S. Church in order to help it become more universal and more open to the rest of the Churches and of the world.

MEMBERSHIP

Membership in the USCMA is open to individuals, groups, and organizations that are committed to the purpose of the Association. All members are equal, and every effort is made by the Association to exemplify the function of the equality of members. Decision-making is consensual. Membership is signified by dues, which will vary according to the ability to pay. The organization depends heavily upon its sustaining members, i.e., those who contribute one thousand dollars or more, but all members are expected to contribute ideas, skills, and time for furthering the common goals.

Although the USCMA is an organization of the Catholic Church in the United States it is open to those beyond our borders, both geographically and confessionally. The members can expect, in return, to find in the Mission Association a place for interaction with others of like concerns and a forum for sharing of ideas. These benefits will be derived especially from the Annual Meeting of all members of the Association. Also, the members will be kept informed on developments in mission theory and practice, and, in turn, will have a place to present problems and ideas, as well as to gain fresh insights from the rich resources of the corporate mission community which forms the membership. From time to time, there will be a special meeting of groups within the Association concerning topics important to their concerns. And in March of 1985, a national Mission Congress will be sponsored by the Association which will reach beyond the membership and serve as a source of animation for the wider Church.

ORGANIZATION

The Board of Directors of the U.S. Catholic Mission Association is composed of not fewer than seven and not more than fifteen members, elected by the membership at their Annual Meeting; their function is to serve the Association for a period of three years. The Board meets at least twice every year. Officers of the Association are the President, the Vice-President, and the Secretary-Treasurer, who are elected by and from the Board of Directors for a period of two years.

The Executive Committee is formed of the Officers of the Mission Association, plus two at-large Directors chosen by the Board, whose function is to implement the business of the Association between Board meetings.

Standing and Ad Hoc Committees also serve the various needs of the Mission Association. The members can be chosen from and/or outside the membership.

An Annual Meeting of the Mission Association membership is envisioned which, in its educational component, will be open to all; and in its business component, will be open to the actual members of the Association.

ACTIVITIES

General activities of the Mission Association are typical of organizations of its kind. Special activities at the present time include the following:

Programs

Washington Mission Seminar. Two-week seminars are held three times a year for both missioners on furlough and new missioners. Mutual sharing, theological and pastoral renewal, and reanimation for mission work are provided.

Mission Animation Workshop. A two-week intensive workshop (three credits optional) is given for people engaged in mission education and animation.

Mission Congress. To strengthen its past and present efforts toward mission animation of U.S. Catholics, this Congress is planned for March of 1983. The goal of the Congress is to re-focus and re-energize the global concerns and activities of U.S. Catholics.

Contemporary Missiology Project. To offer a post-Vatican II understanding of mission, a project is under way to involve Catholic theologians from the Churches of Latin America, Africa, Asia, and North America in a statement of current missiological concerns.

Consultations. The Association brings together representatives of mission-sending groups and agencies to confer on the experiences of American missionaries in various countries and activities abroad, with their implications for the U.S. Church.

Seminars. The Association sponsors or co-sponsors seminars on current topics relating to the mission of the Church.

Publications

Mission Intercom. A newsletter published ten times a year, containing items of mission interest gleaned from a broad spectrum of publications and other sources of information.

Mission Handbook. An annual publication containing statistics drawn from the Association's data bank of U.S. Catholic personnel doing missionary work abroad.

Mission Institutes. An annual compilation of available workshops and seminars of interest to new or furloughed missioners, ecumenical in scope.

Movies for Mission Animation. A flier on films pertaining to the missionary nature of the Church for use in schools, CCD programs, and adult education.

PART II

U. S. CATHOLIC MISSION INVENTORY

GUIDELINES TO PRESENTATION

The following 1982 tabulation of the United States Catholic missionaries serving abroad has been compiled by the U.S. Catholic Mission Association from data gathered from many sources. For each of the missionaries listed in these tables, the Association has obtained a data-form of basic information. The tables have been compiled from these individual forms, and not from totals given by mission-sending groups, or home dioceses, or mission fields. They are, therefore, as reliable as the most diligent effort can make them and as the constant changes in personnel will allow. Some comment, however, on each of the terms in the title of these tables is necessary.

The tables list only U.S. missionaries, which means those who are, or have been United States citizens by birth or naturalization. Those who have taken out citizenship in their country of mission service are still listed here as missionaries from the United States. On the other hand, citizens of other countries serving as members of mission-sending groups headquartered in the U.S., are not listed. As an example, there are numerous Maryknoll sisters serving abroad, often in countries other than their homeland who are not U.S. citizens and therefore are not listed here among the Maryknoll sisters serving as U.S. Catholic missionaries abroad. This policy helps to prevent overlapping when the various national mission councils publish their tabulations. It must be remembered, however, that mission-sending groups which, in the tables, appear to have only very few members in a given mission field, may have many more who are not of U.S. citizenship.

The tables bear the heading U.S. Catholic missionaries. This includes a small number of Catholic missionaries serving with Protestant mission-sending agencies. It also includes a small number of Protestant and Jewish volunteers serving under the auspices of Catholic agencies, for example, some of the medical personnel placed in the mission field by the Catholic Medical Mission Board.

The term missionaries is used in its generally accepted sense, including not only those engaged in the primary and subsequent stages of evangelization, but also those in the closely related areas of community service and development.

The term serving ordinarily stands for service over a long period of years, or for life. While on the other hand, some groups, particularly many groups of lay volunteers, provide short-term service, only those are included in these statistics who serve for a minimum of one year.

The term abroad means "outside of the 48 contiguous States." The tabulation does not include, therefore, the hundreds of "home missioners" working in sections of our country in situations comparable to any that could be found in other lands. In general, the list of "mission countries" is that followed in two decades of such data-gathering by the former Mission Secretariat and the National Office of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith.

The International Liaison is a clearing house for volunteer lay personnel. Each year the Liaison polls the missions throughout the world to ascertain their needs for qualified lay expertise. The Liaison then channels these mission needs to the laity of the United States, through advertising, talks, and more especially, through the booklet The Response. This publication is widely distributed through the U.S.

The Liaison sees the work of the laity as an integral part of the total Catholic approach to the mission of the Church in the world. It constantly searches for projects whereby lay and religious work side by side, particularly in the area of temporal expertise. Towards this end, the Liaison makes every effort to work out equitable arrangements between the sending agency and the lay volunteer. The normal term of service is a minimum of two years, with possibilities for renewal.
